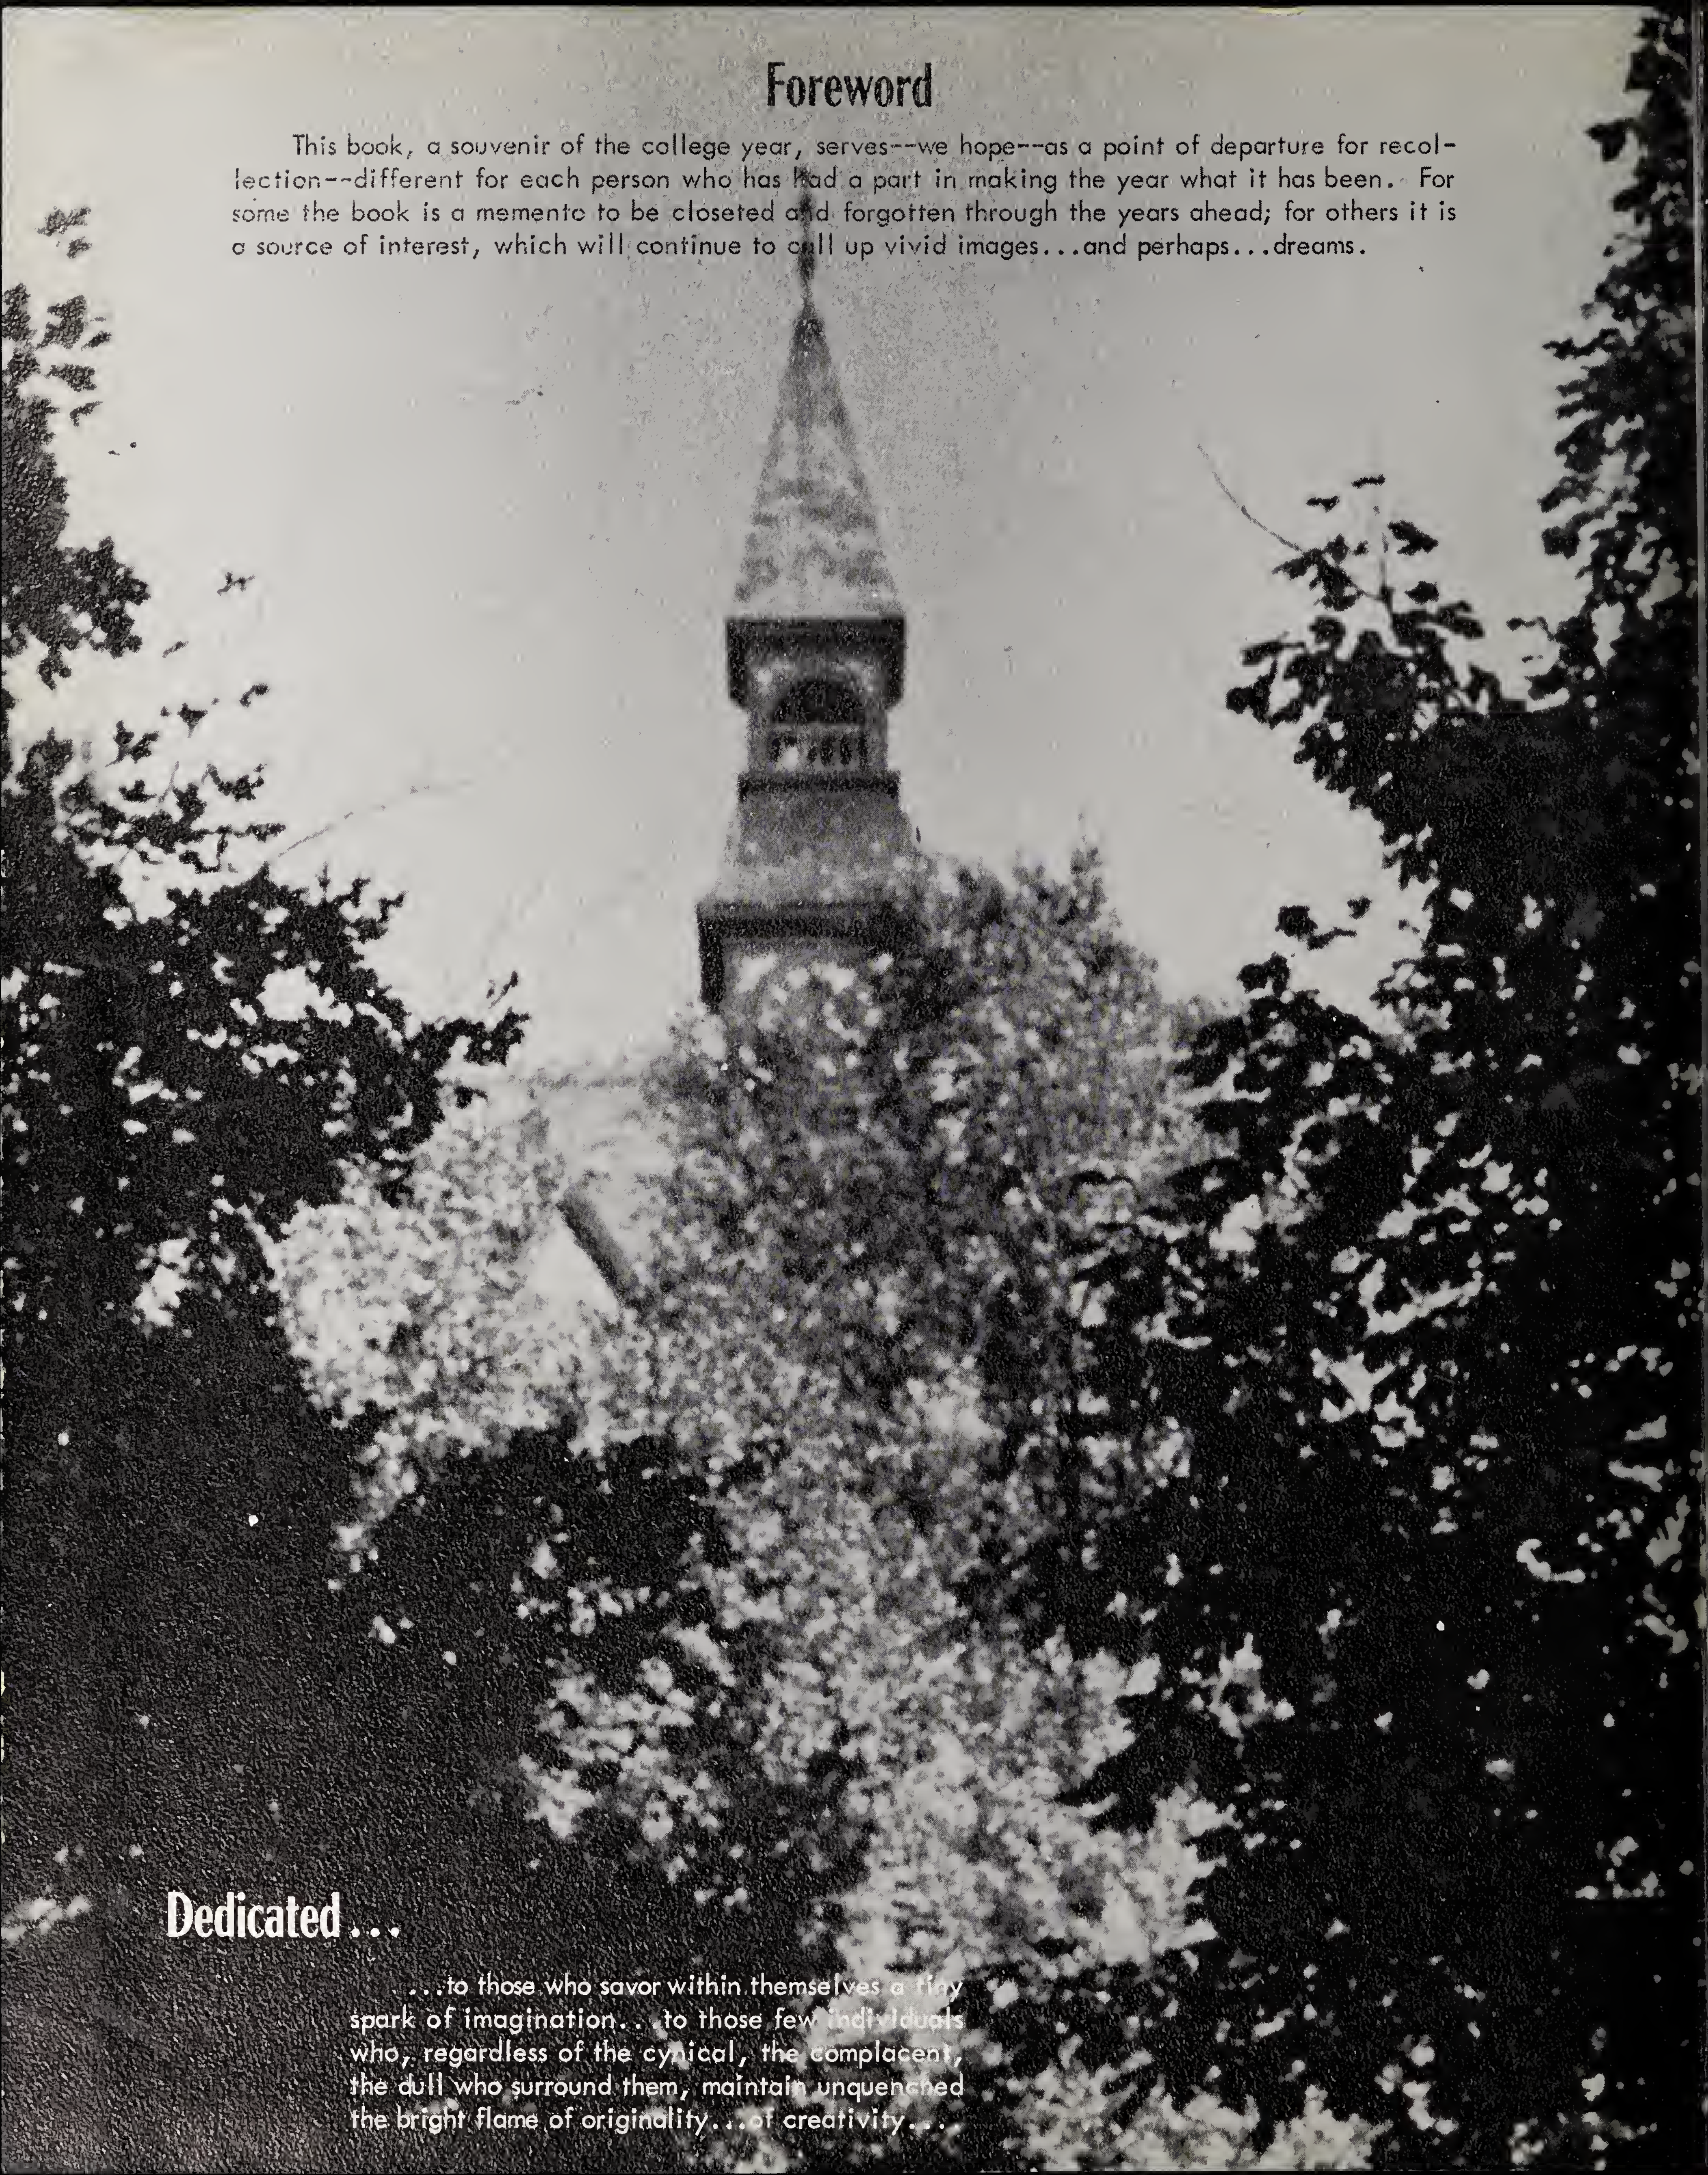
Foreword

This book, a souvenir of the college year, serves--we hope--as a point of departure for recollection--different for each person who has had a part in making the year what it has been. For some the book is a memento to be closeted and forgotten through the years ahead; for others it is a source of interest, which will continue to call up vivid images...and perhaps...dreams.



Dedicated...

...to those who savor within themselves a tiny spark of imagination...to those few individuals who, regardless of the cynical, the complacent, the dull who surround them, maintain unquenched the bright flame of originality...of creativity...

Memories Probe

No one can ever predict what memory will come back to haunt or please us. Sometimes in a flood of recollections one small instance of worth or beauty or truth will stand out in absolute clarity. All the rest falls away into the shadows; out of one instance your world will move ahead and be reshaped.

In the years to come, turning these pages, I predict this will happen to all of you. The picture of a person or event, the description of some excitement long past will call back to your mind your communion of friends, your study, your joys at Park this year. To paraphrase some lines of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing:

The idea of this life shall sweetly creep
Into the study of imagination,
And every lovely organ of this life
Shall come apparell'd in more precious habit,
More moving-delicate and full of life
Into the eye and prospect of your soul.

(Signed) P. H. Morrill

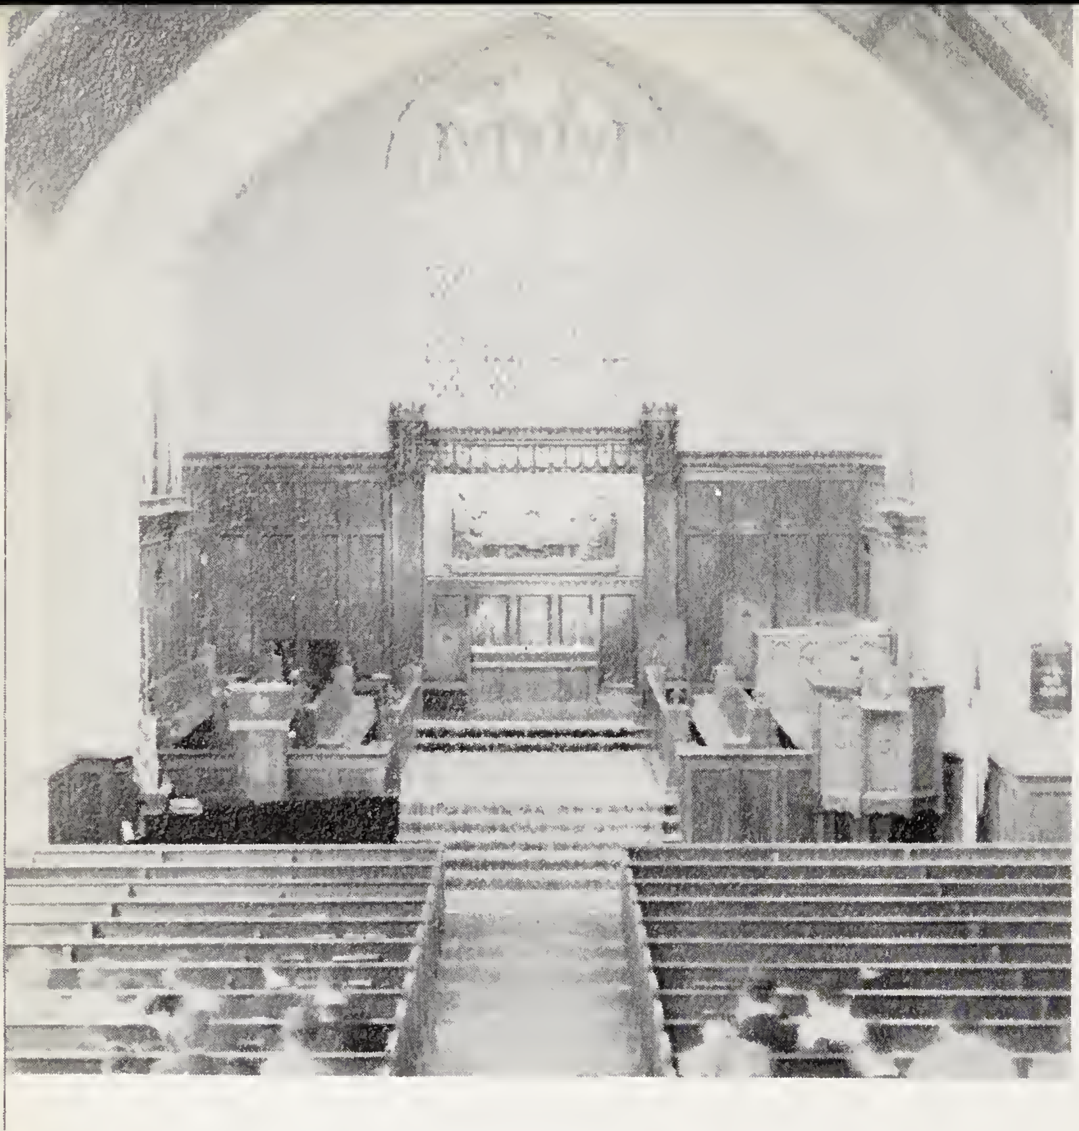
WORSHIP DIVISION



Campus Church

Groham Tyler Memorial Chopel

The Park College Campus Church, whose membership includes students, and members of the faculty and staff of the College, sets forth its purposes and ideals in the following pledge:

> By recognizing Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior, thus believing in the Christian Faith and in the Christian Church, both in its varied denominational expression and its world-wide unity, and desiring to have an active part in its opportunities for service and leadership, so far as those are available on the Campus, I hereby accept membership in the Campus Church of Park College.

In accordance with these goals and ideals, the Campus Church has this year, as always, tried to present a full schedule of religious programs, discussion groups, worship services, and opportunities for Christian service.

The budget adopted this year called for approximately $2000, enabling the Campus Church to continue its support of worth-while organizations and groups throughout the world.

The Campus Church is governed by a student-faculty Board of Elders elected annually at a Congregational meeting. This Board, composed of ten Elders, a secretary, treasurer and moderator, has control over the financial, religious and social activities and affairs of the church, and, with the counsel of the Dean of Religious Life, oversees all the work of the church on the campus and elsewhere.

The most important task which the Campus Church has before it is to provide, for Park students, opportunities for service and leadership, to develop one's sense of stewardship and responsibility to fellow Christians and people of all faiths throughout the world, and, finally, to provide through dormitory discussions, Religion in Life Week and the regular service of worship, an atmosphere conducive to the development of one's responsibility of life based on the ideals of the Christian faith.

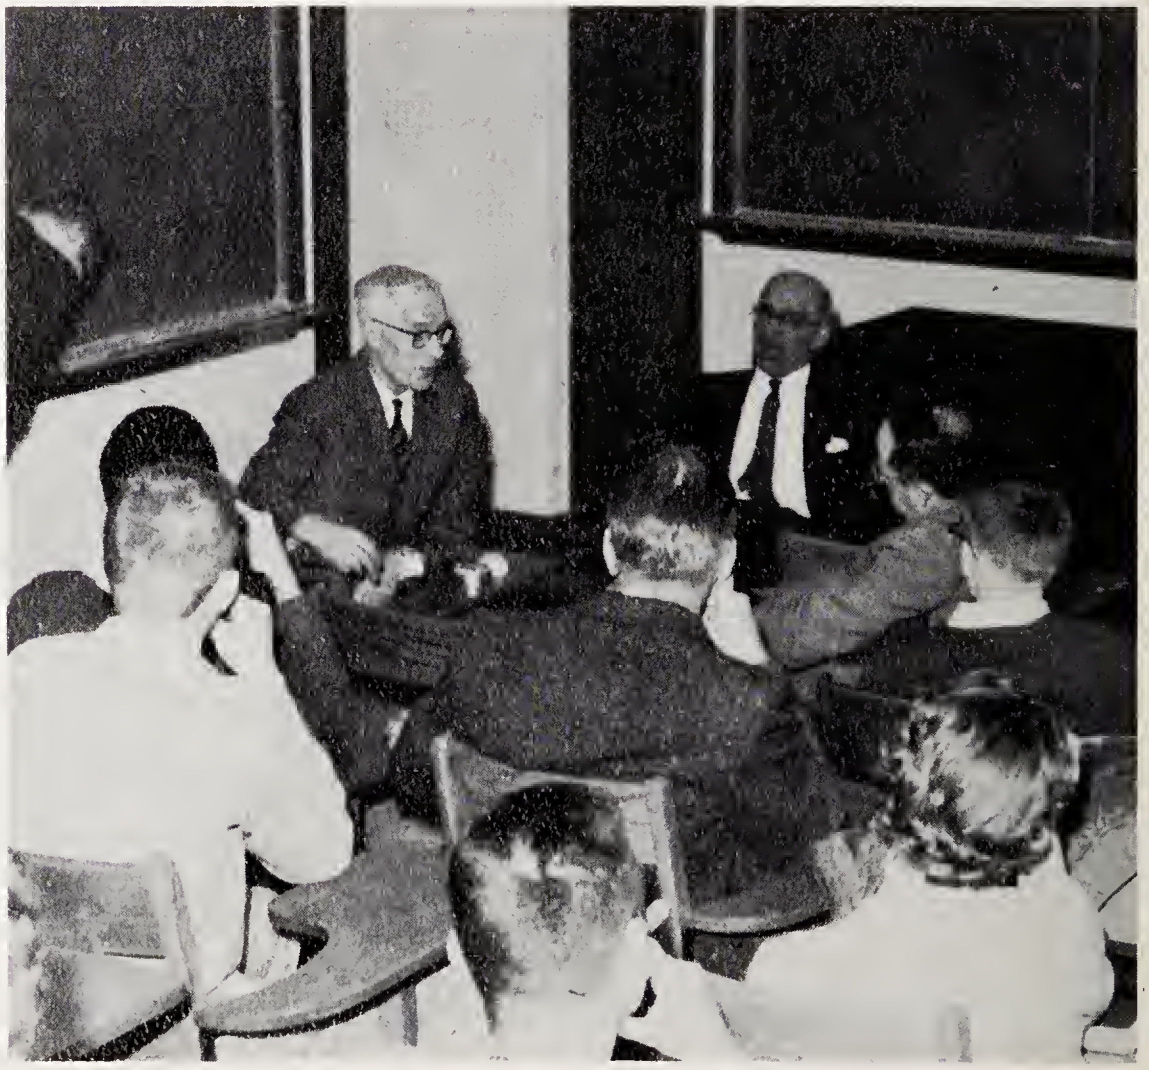
"Is Faith Outmoded in Our Modern Age?"



Dr. Boyd and Dr. Haroutunian at Natural Science Colloquium

The topic for Religion in Life Week this year was "Faith on a College Campus." The speakers were Dr. Joseph Haroutunian and Dr. Alexander Boyd.

The week began with a sermon by Dr. Haroutunian titled "Is Faith Outmoded in Our Modern Age?" Sunday evening a panel made up of Dr. Boyd, Dr. Haroutunian, Dean Manoil, Dr. Pai, and Mr. Moore discussed the "Pragmatic Approach to Faith."

Monday morning Dr. Boyd discussed the subject, "Is Modern Higher Education the Enemy of Faith?" and in the afternoon he addressed the International Relations Club on "The Indian Revolution." Dr. Haroutunian lectured at the faculty meeting Monday night.

Dr. Boyd spoke of "Faith and Reason" Tuesday night in Chapel and Dr. Haroutunian presented the final talk Wednesday night--"A Faith to Live By."

Before. . .

Narva

This year the NARVA staff has attempted to add a few new touches to the book, the key to these being an increased accent on informality. We have tried to make the general format more consistent in this respect than has been done previously, by using informal settings and poses for administration and faculty pictures, as well as for student groups and sports events.

Thanks are due the staff and several interested outsiders for helpful criticisms and ideas; a special thank you is due our photographer for initiating many ideas of his own which enabled us to carry out our plans. The work of numerous copy writers and the cooperation of all those who appeared as scheduled for photos are appreciated.

We hope the general content of the book covers a wide enough area to provide interesting reading for a majority of students.

Stylus

FIRST SEMESTER STAFF: Joanne Mayes, Business Manager; Sarita Penick and Rae Irwin, Columnists; Dick Hull, Photographer; Norman Dunsmare, Columnist; Jerry Plummer, Editor; Bill Hite, Associate Editor; Walt Humphrey, Assistant Editor.

Out of a mass of unrelated events transpiring in the world in general and the Park College scene in particular, an assorted array of various students bend their talents toward producing the campus newspaper, the Stylus. Part of the work involved behind each publication that is cursorily scanned by some and strictly scrutinized by others includes collaring individuals to report on special campus events, and gleaning the minds of others of ideas about so-called intellectual subjects.

Jerre Chitwaad, Carale White, Gary Clark, Peggy Wallace.

Idler

As the college's only literary journal, the Idler is small but selective and aims at including within its covers only the best examples of student writing submitted for publication. The staff, with Gary Clark as this year's editor, reads and decides upon the numerous poems, written in every form from rhymed couplet to sonnet and the stories, ranging in length from a paragraph to several hundred words.

The Idler, entirely student produced and student sponsored, reflects fairly accurately the degree of student interest in writing of this sort and the quality of student expression. When interest and ability are lacking, the contents are indicative; at the same time, the presence of imaginative and original thought among the students also finds expression in the Idler's pages.

Highlighting the athletic season at Park this spring was an enthusiastic program of varsity intercollegiate tennis. Practice began early in the semester on a new indoor court in the gym, and continued with practice matches with near-by schools as soon as the weather warmed. Two matches each were scheduled with the following schools: William Jewel, Central, Graceland, and Kansas City University. A spring vacation tour into Ohio included a match with Wooster College. Bob Cantine, Bill Nichols, John Clarke, Jon Hawley, Mansour Zabetian, Bruce Street, and Jim Mott all played spiritedly to enhance the name of Park in Midwestern athletics.

ICC

The Inter-Club Council is composed of the eight social club presidents and a chairman selected from the previous council. Its primary function is the coordination of Rush Week activities and the portioning of new club members, and it continues to act as a coordinating body in dealing with other activities or problems which affect the clubs as a whole.

FIRST SEMESTER: Gary Clark, Marge Crabtree, Tom Campagna, Sylvia Helms, Ed Oathout, Gail Copple, Lynn Bondurant, Barb Chace.

Anthony Cleopatra Club

The Anthony Cleopatra Club, "The Spirit of Friendliness," opened the year with an informal rush party for new students in the old Jolly Roger with a talent show, dancing, group singing, volleyball, and bowling. A steak fry at Melody Lane welcomed new Tonies and Cleos at the close of Rush Week. The Harvest Festival float followed an Egyptian theme, with Bob Dunham as Anthony, and Sandy Mosiman as Cleopatra. Later in the fall the ACC sponsored a candle-lit, Mexican atmosphere chili supper, and still later, the annual Christmas dance, this season La Balle de Noel, held off campus. Nancy Shea and Ed Oathout reigned as Queen and King. Then came Spring...and with it the Anthony-Cleopatra Follies at WUS and Antoine's ACC gay and sparkling party--atmosphere one-night restaurant with the most taste-tempting food and the most delightful entertainment to be found.

The ACC had a wonderful year....

The winning Harvest Festival float

Lancelot Elaine Club

Autumn leaves and the new fall semester found the LEC in full swing, putting into action dreams conjured during the "dormant" summer months. Rush week started off with the party at the Bell Road Barn, and was climaxed with a picnic at the Lakeside Country Club, where old and new members enjoyed a day of boating, volleyball, softball, eating, and singing.

Outstanding events on the LEC calendar were the initiation party with swimming and bowling, the triumphant float for the second consecutive year at the Harvest Festival, Lance serenades, the Elaine surprise Christmas party for the Lances, a pizza party, and a car wash. The highlight of the year is always the annual "Knight-time Ball," again held at Garrett Hall in Kansas City.

Orion Aurora Club

Initiating the club year was a Hawaiian rush week party, complete with dancing Orions dressed in leis and grass skirts. Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton hosted the "get-acquainted" party for new members at their home.

Chickenwire, paper mache, and straw covered burlap combined to make the Harvest Festival float. Conforming to the theme, "Far Away Places" the float took us to darkest Africa where two very ferocious natives danced around a giant-sized pot occupied by Dr. Hamilton, whose biological expedition had apparently been permanently interrupted.

Later in the fall the Orions surprised the Auroras with a serenade which was followed by a donut and cider, bowling and dancing party in the Old Jolly Roger.

With the help of Jenkin David the OAC Homecoming show "Infernal Follies" was a howling success. The show was followed by a "Devil's Housewarming" in the Meetin' House, where there were dancing and refreshments in a fiery red atmosphere.

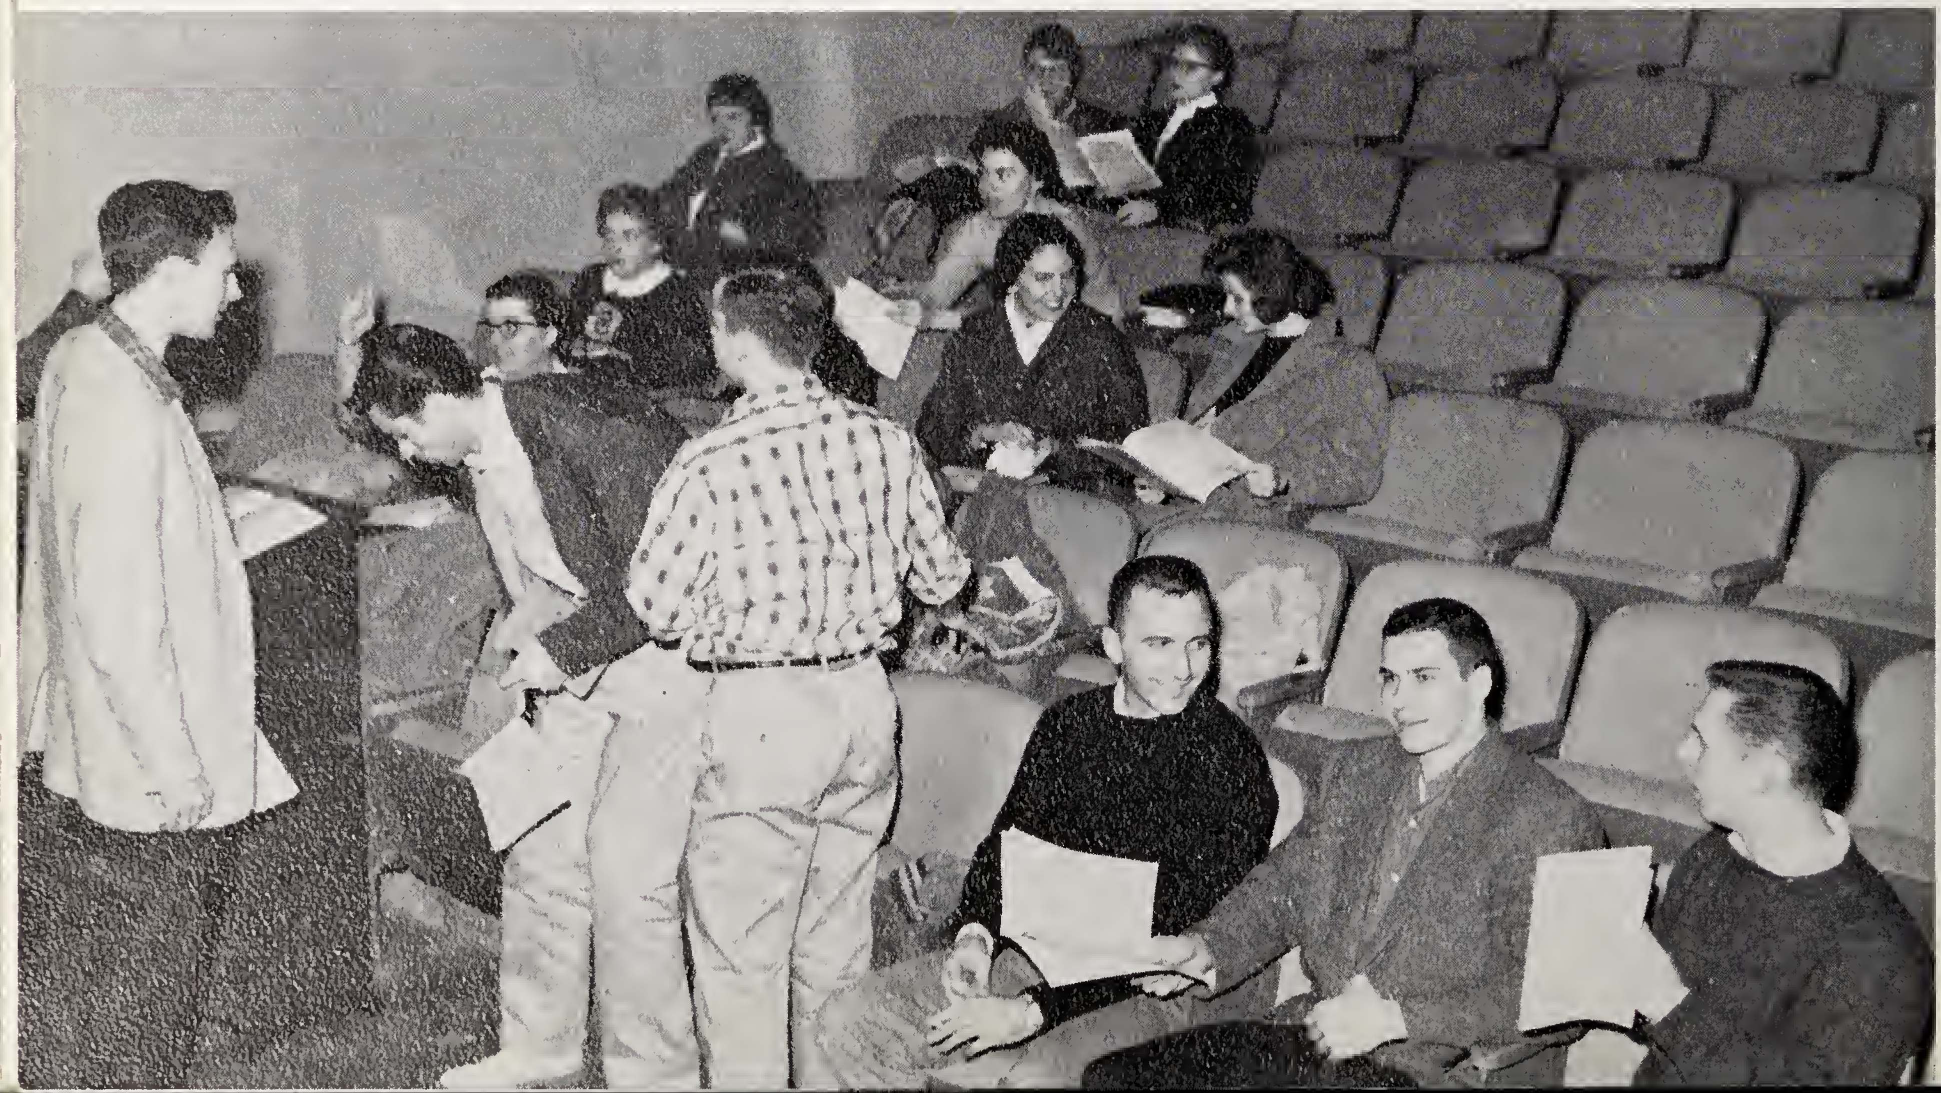
Parchie Varsity in the making



Parchevard Calliopean Club

The PCC started off their year with a successful rush party based on the "Beatnik" theme, followed with a picnic for the new members at water works park.

In October the club opened Park's social season with the "Gold Cotillion" held in Commons. Bill Hite and Mercedes Ferrer reigned over the affair as King and Queen.

The PCC caught the spirit of Harvest Festival, and worked hard building their float, "Polar Picnic." The float featured an igloo and two penguins, and was done in white, silver, and ice-blue.

In November the club sponsored a unique "Library Rock" for the school. Those who attended found a new atmosphere among the books, confessedly not conducive to study!

The club also sponsored the movie "Anastasia" in January, shown in the Park Theater before a large, enthusiastic audience.

Much work was done to make the Parchie Varsity, based on the history of motion pictures, equal in caliber to the traditionally outstanding performances. The PCC also are looking ahead to a spring picnic and ice cream social.

At the year's end, all members of the club look back on these fun-filled activities which helped to make it another great year for the Purple and Gold.

Santa came to the Chesnut-Stephens Christmas party!

The spirit of Chesnut has survived in "top drawer" fashion throughout the year. Late in the evening we find Jay Edwards and his roommate, Nick Khodadad, blowing smoke high up in the room, Nick doing calculus, and Jay reading Playboy. Across the hall there's a bridge game being played by John Charlton and Phil Wheeler. Rock 'n Roll hits Chesnut as Dave Graham shows his roommate, Bruce Williams, the "hot" steps. Steve McConnell is trying to explain the whys and wherefores of girls to his roommate, Gordon Edwards. Next we find ourselves in the middle of a tom-tom as Harry Hoffman gives it all he's got. Bob Fischer is bragging about his pipe collection, while across the hall we find Ed Quade eating some "goodies" from home as his roommate Mansiour Zabetian is throwing everybody else out! Jan Morris and Shu-Hon Yu are working at those books--chem test coming up! We hear sounds of good music coming from across the hall as John Washburn explains the "classics" to Jerre Chitwood who falls asleep on top of his sack. Next door is complete chaos as Warren Furnish, having had his fill of KCKN, throws Bruce Street out of the room and his radio after him. Paul Thackeberry and his roommate, Dick Schwartz, are discussing the basketball game as visitors gather. Next we come to the habitat of Bill Booth, who is sleeping through his alarm, and his roommate, Sam Crawford, who is leaving to answer the phone. What's this? Oh! It's Dick Hull and Joe Crosby discussing the sociological trend of the day. Dale Meyer, our housefather, is sipping coffee with his pal as they review chemistry!

Copley - Thaw

Open House

No one can ever hope that a men's dorm will be a place of peace and quiet. This year, Copley succeeded in surpassing all mischievous expectations. With the nightly bombings, flooded shower rooms, booby traps, blaring Hi-Fi's, and general chaos, life at Copley was ever far from uneventful. The dorm officers, representatives, and counselors managed to stay alive by passing legislation at a safe distance, and many noble attempts at law and order were hard pressed, but were in the end, totally disregarded. Needless to say, Mom Reister certainly earned the "Mom" part, for only a mother could put up with all the roughhouse and still smile.

Open house was a success again this year and our smokers, parties and raids were well attended and enjoyed by all. Even though the disappearance of Nickel's bell cost us a damage assessment, it too, was worth it.

The dorm has seen a good year, evidence of which can be noted on the tired face of old Copley.

Hawley Hall

Beautiful Hawley Hall has been home to approximately thirty-five girls this year. When the girls moved into campus life they brought with them a zest for life and some resolution to study. It was not long before Mrs. Hawkins was "Mom" to them all and could be counted on to lend a helping hand when needed, be it parties, fixing popcorn poppers, or "Men." Open house, with "Shades of White" as its theme was the first big affair sponsored by the girls, and with it came a flurry of cleaning and excitement. Hawley had its informal evenings too, with song fests and some "hen" parties after closing hours. In observation of previous resolutions the girls did study and voices would become softer and footsteps quieter as the clock would strike eight, signaling in "quiet hours." The first few months of dormitory life were perhaps the most challenging of the entire year for each girl as she learned to live with the others. The excitement of the first snowfall mischief, raids, and books! This whirlwind year at Hawley Hall will always be one of the most memorable occasions in each girl's life.

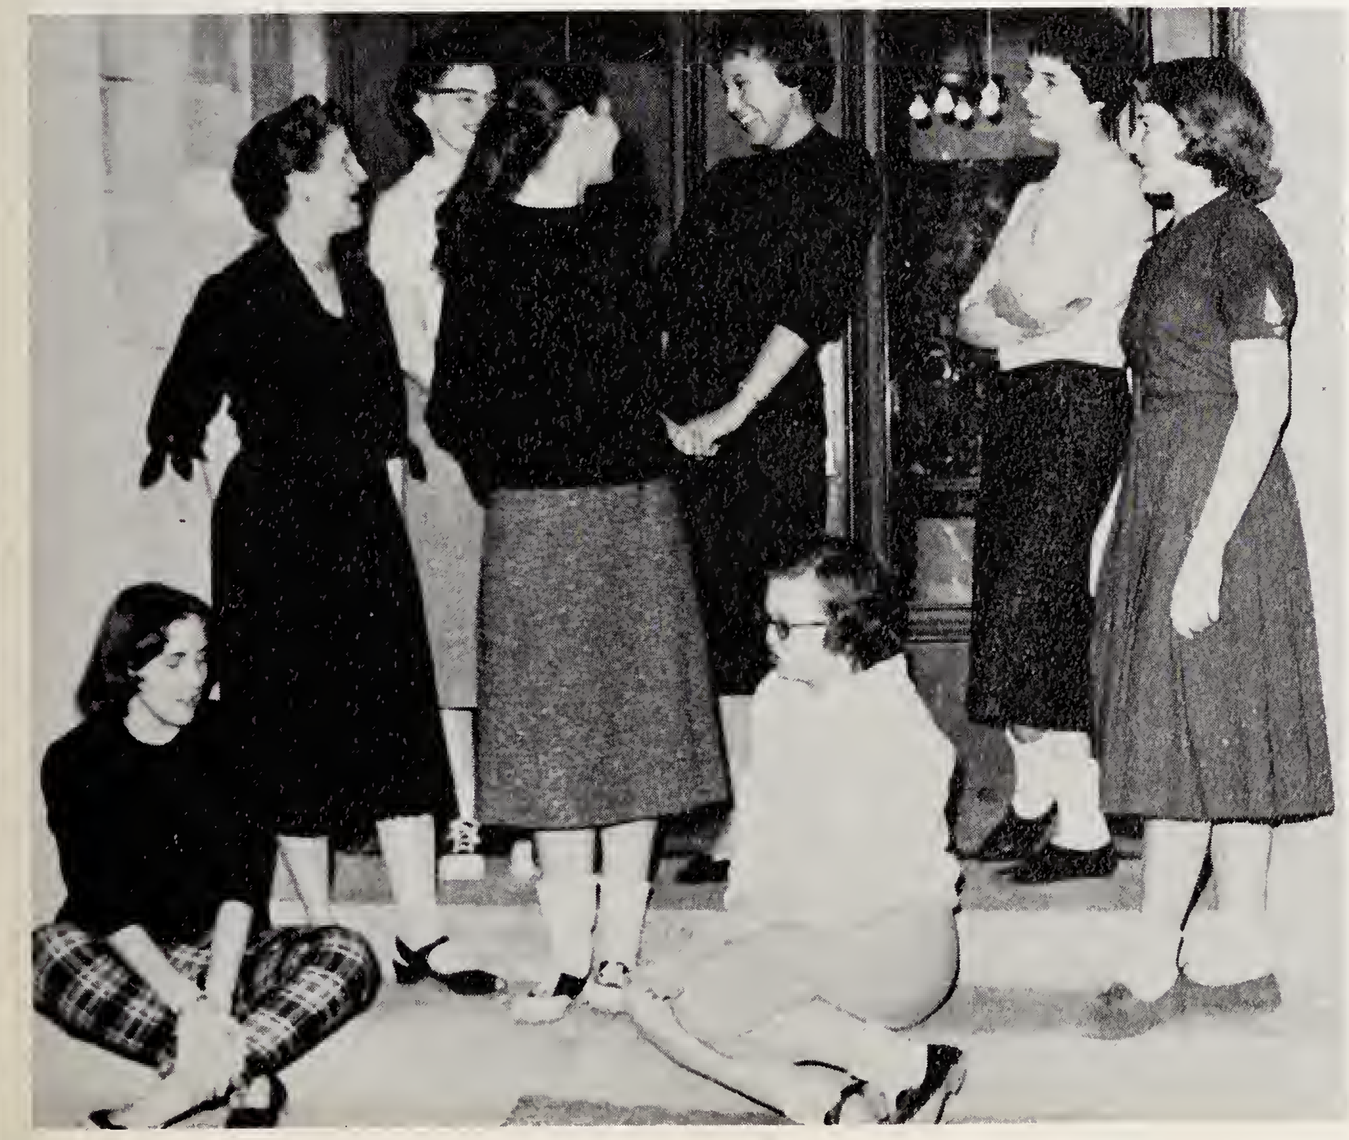
OFFICERS: Louella Dunagan, Social Chairman; Mrs. Fleming; Kathy Eckel, Vice President; Ruth Swan, Inter-dorm Council; Suzanne Spears, President; Sarita Penick, Secretary; Debbie Brunell, Social Chairman; Mary Gatton, Treasurer.



Lights turned on in the empty rooms...Cars filling up the parking lot...A hubbub of excited female voices in the air...

The life of Herr House begins. Girls meet to gossip.

The "housemother," outstanding member of the household...Mom Fleming directs in the details of routine work and guides each girl as she strives to prepare "her daughter" for her place in the Herr House ring...

And thus the months go by, perhaps years..But now, there is a break in the long hours of study and routine. Backstage for Open House. Up at five to serve breakfast. So you're my pillpal? Home for vacation. Tests...Tests...Tests...A dance, a date, a dream.

An old brown building, plus girls ...that is Herr House. A memory- a haven- a home at Park College.

OFFICERS: Stu Nelson and Paul Gault.

Nickel Hall

Emanating from an aura of academic splendor, the influence of the men of Nickel have made deep, far reaching impressions on those unfortunates of the rest of the campus. And it is no wonder. Guided, disciplined, and united by the fatherly, forceful, pervading spirit of Roland Bertol the great minds of Nickel, each of which one could spend considerable time praising, have completed another year of upholding and furthering the incomparable traditions and standards of the past. Housing men involved in every important function of the college, a constant stream of information is received and processed for future use. An interesting assortment of personality types, a varied display of talent, and a complete collection of romantic philosophers make up the elect of Nickel.

Nineteen girls again mounted the seventy-two steps to their home on the fourth floor of Hawley. Though winded by the long climb (it's terrible when you're locked out and your key is in the room!), the girls planned a year to be remembered.

The traditional off campus splurge was held at Sandy's Oak Ridge Manor. In December the men of Chesnut decided to "borrow" our Christmas tree during the supper hour. Although our touch of Christmas was gone, our spirit was renewed by a Christmas party given in our honor by the "conscious stricken" fellows.

February brought our formal Open House with a Valentine's Day theme, and as Spring rolled around, our "well organized" house meetings dealt with House Party and WUS carnival plans.

Along with the carefree moments there were the serious moments when the clatter of typewriters could be heard whipping out those final term papers, and many a night the midnight oil burned!
